

ARTIST ADVOCATE

The artist advocate serves as a champion and advocate for artists and arts organizations by participating in and leading initiatives, reaching out to new and established audiences, elevating the arts community through increased visibility and programming, and convening groups and encouraging collaborations.

This is a career without boundaries. Artist Advocates receive royalties from music sales, radio spins, music videos, video games, movie soundtracks, and more.... simply by requesting the music that they would like to hear!

Representatives create an unlimited cash flow by building a team and recruiting other music lovers, artists, and entrepreneurs.

Artist Advocates essentially own & operate their own business; which is music publishing. They receive a commission from every member recruited into their team, as well as residual payments from every artist that participates in the Artist Advocate program.

FYI: Artists actually receive greater earnings by participating in the Artist Advocate program than they would receive independently, or on a major record label.

Qualifications (skills and personal attributes):

- good communication and problem-solving skills
- good sales and/or management skills
- curious and analytical; willing to learn
- open, friendly, understanding, and sensitive to the needs of others
- mature, flexible, and able to work with people in conflict
- non-judgmental; able to hear and respect diverse views

Sales experience helpful, not necessary.

Salary: Base pay is commission-based plus bonus and incentives; Residual payments are a base percent of the earnings calculated by royalties received through the Advocate program during each accounting period. (Contact the Administrator for more details).
